Frequently Asked Questions

Here are answers to questions we're often asked about retirement living and life at The Forum.

Q. What is a Life Plan Community?

A. Life Plan Communities, formerly known as Continuing Care Retirement Communities (CCRCs), offer independent living residences as well as access to high-quality residential care (assisted living), memory care and 24-hour skilled nursing care. A Life Plan Community focuses on promoting an independent lifestyle for residents while providing higher levels of care on a single campus, if needed. This emphasis on independence and planning one's own future is what makes a Life Plan Community a unique and more satisfying experience for residents. At The Forum, if higher levels of care are needed, you have guaranteed priority access to our onsite Health Care Center.

Q. Who governs The Forum at Rancho San Antonio?

A. The Forum at Rancho San Antonio was founded as a resident-owned Life Plan Community. An elected Resident Board of Directors provides financial oversight to the community, and helps ensure that your interests are well-represented.

The day-to-day operations of the community are handled on-site by staff who work for a senior living management company retained by the Board. They provide key professional services and activities that help ensure a high quality of life at The Forum at Rancho San Antonio.

Q. What about the health care plan?

A. The Forum at Rancho San Antonio's unique Life Plan offers you access to high-quality health care. With a focus on prevention, our Wellness Center offers a variety of fitness, nutrition and personal services to help you live independently and maintain optimum health. A team of physicians holds regular office hours, and transportation to local doctors' offices is available.

Should the need arise, the Health Care Center provides assisted living, skilled nursing, memory care and rehab for temporary or permanent stays. The plan also provides for care at a pre-established rate that is substantially below the usual health care costs for the same services. This is key for long-term financial planning, and it can help free family members from the potential burden of caregiving responsibilities.

Q. How much does it cost to live at The Forum at Rancho San Antonio?

A. The Forum at Rancho San Antonio offers memberships at varying prices depending upon the type of residence you choose, among other factors. Monthly fees for services and meals are competitive with other similar Life Plan Communities. If you want to get a ballpark idea of costs for a particular residence, we invite you to visit our website at theforum-seniorliving.com.

For more information about pricing, floorplans and the move-in process, please contact the Sales Office at 650.944.0100.

Q. Do you offer respite care? Is there a way to try out The Forum at Rancho San Antonio before moving in?

A. Yes, in healthcare only, we offer respite care. Care revolves around you or your loved one's normal routine, and the stay can be a few days or a few weeks.

- A daily fee covers most services, from housekeeping and medication management to special outings and dining
- Accommodations are a private furnished suite in assisted living & memory care
- Resort-style concierge services are available
- Education & support groups for family and friends are held
- Free Wi-Fi internet service and cable TV are available

Q. Do you offer Home Care?

A. Yes. The Forum at Rancho San Antonio Home Care Services are designed to provide residents with all the support they need to remain independent, healthy and happy at home. Health services are provided through professional staff at the Wellness Center for residents who need a limited amount of assistance.

Q. Is The Forum at Rancho San Antonio pet-friendly?

A. Yes! We know your four-legged friends are a part of your family and they are welcome residents of our community. Owners often take their dogs to the on-campus dog park.

Equity Ownership

Your purchase of a spacious villa or apartment home at The Forum is true ownership. It's an investment that historically has gained value over time, building a legacy for those you love.

The Forum at Rancho San Antonio is a resident-owned, resident-governed community. That means that as a resident, you're more than just someone who lives at the community. You own, govern and are the community.

What is equity ownership?

We understand how important financial security is. That's why we offer a unique membership equity plan that gives you the opportunity to preserve your investment. We are one of the few retirement communities in the Bay area to offer this equity ownership financial model, which allows you to protect your estate by maximizing your financial return.

True ownership with real benefits

This equity plan gives you true ownership advantages. You enjoy tax benefits and the ability to sell at any time. You may be able to receive your full investment back plus a portion of appreciation when you do well, which preserves your estate and helps you leave a legacy for your family as part of your estate planning.

Through equity ownership, each resident shares in the future appreciation of his or her membership upon resale. Compare this to "entrance fee" financial plans where little or no return on the initial investment is received.

How equity ownership works

As members of a nonprofit stock cooperative, residents buy a property interest in The Forum at Rancho San Antonio. Instead of renting a residence, you enjoy the tax benefits and equity preservation associated with home ownership. Memberships have varying values, depending upon the size of the residence chosen and other factors.

When a membership is sold, members share in equity and appreciation, giving them the chance to preserve — and potentially increase — the value of their investment in The Forum at Rancho San Antonio.

As a Forum resident-owner, you can choose to contribute through the Retirement Housing Corporation (RHC) or Retirement Services, Inc. (RSI), chair a committee, introduce initiatives, or volunteer at your leisure.

Real tax benefits

In addition to the membership price, each person pays an entrance fee, which may be tax-deductible the year of purchase. Health Care Center fees and a portion of occupancy fees may boost tax deductions toward medical and property taxes. When selling your membership, the exit fee and costs to sell could also hold tax benefits.

Membership control

As a resident-owner, you can contribute to how the community operates. Whether you participate on the Resident Board, serve on a committee, or simply want to voice your opinion, your input matters.

The process of selling your membership

As a member of The Forum at Rancho San Antonio, you also have the right to sell your membership at any time. While the real estate market can impact results, it's possible to receive back your full initial investment and 50% of appreciation, minus fees and customary closing costs upon the sale of your membership (fees total approximately 10% of the selling price and include commission, closing costs and The Forum at Rancho San Antonio's health care exit and market fees). Our staff will assist you in listing, showing and facilitating your sale.

If you sell your membership to help cover the costs of a permanent move to our Health Care Center, sale proceeds can be put toward a no-interest loan secured by a promissory note to the Health Care Center Corporation. The loan balance will be repaid to you or your estate when you leave The Forum at Rancho San Antonio.
